

Once there was a Man in Love who was Extremely Attenuated. In fact, he grew so Slender that his Shadow used to fall into Cracks in the Pavement and have to be pried out.

His Daisy complained that his Knee Hurt her, and that it made her Cross Eyed to look at him; but she Couldn't Afford to be Particular, and let it Go at That.

One day she Noticed that the Wind no longer Whistled when it Struck him, and that his Clothes seemed Filled Out. She Reproached him Bitterly. "Ah, Clarence! You love me No More!"

"No, Dearest," he said. "My Appetite is Tremendous, it is True, but I Love you Just the Same. The Secret is that now It ake a Glass of Primo Beer with Every Meal."

He grew Heavy so Rapidly that his Tailor had to Plan Ahead, but he was True to Daisy to the End.

Moral: Primo Beer will give you an Appetite under the most Adverse Conditions.

You have heard about them—why haven't you tried them?

Don't say you know what a Dill Pickle is unless you have tasted the Heinz Dill Pickle.

There are no others like them.

Your grocer has them.

Insist upon getting HEINZ.

SOCIAL NOTES

MIKADO'S BIRTHDAY BIG SOCIAL EVENT

HIS IMPERIAL JAPANESE MAJESTY MUTSUHITO

The official reception and celebration in honor of the birthday anniversary of His Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of Japan, held in the Japanese Consulate General in Honolulu on November 2d, was exceptionally grand. It was the first official reception of Consul General Uyeno.

The Consulate was fittingly decorated for the occasion. A large arch with the emblem of the chrysanthemum in the center was erected over the entrance. The reception rooms on the second and third floors were adorned with Japanese flags, ferns, palm leaves, malle, and other tropical greens.

In the evening a grand banquet was given. This was strictly limited to the Japanese, who numbered about four hundred. During the banquet, a flash-light picture of the guests was taken.

Japanese Reception

Promptly at 5 a. m. Consul General Uyeno, Elve Consul K. Abe, and the members of the staff of the Consulate, assembled in the reception room and received subjects of Japan. The Consul General was attired in dark Consular uniform. He was dignified in his bearing and his manner of receiving the callers was pleasing. After the guests had been presented to the Consul General they were escorted to a refreshment table, where light drinks and eatables were served. During the reception, Japanese school children numbering about 900 with their band, sang and played the "Kimiga-ya," the Japanese national anthem, with patriotic enthusiasm. Consul General Uyeno and the callers stood in silence out of respect to their ruler, Emperor Mutsuhito. In closing the Consul made appropriate and instructive remarks to the pupils, advising them to become good citizens.

The callers, after the reception, expressed themselves highly pleased with they way they were received by their new Consul.

Foreign Reception

At 11 o'clock the foreigners were officially received in the magnificent reception room on the second floor. Among the first callers were Governor Walter F. Frear and staff, Ernest A. Mott-Smith, Secretary of the Territory, Federal and Territorial officials, Consuls of the foreign Powers, United States Army and Naval officers, and a number of prominent citizens. The Consul and Elve Consul received the distinguished guests in a manner that made everybody feel at home. They were served with refreshments different from those which were served in the Japanese reception.

Hawaiian Band Present

Through the courtesy of the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, the Hawaiian band played at the reception. Aside from playing the Japanese national anthem, which was applauded loudly, several appropriate Occidental and Oriental selections were rendered. Captain Berger was afterwards complimented by the Consul.

Afternoon Recreation

The afternoon was spent in athletic sports. The parks were thronged with adults and children. The latter in their beautiful Japanese kimonos attracted much attention.

Grand Banquet

In the evening Consul General Uyeno gave a grand banquet to 400 invited guests including a number of ladies. It was given on the third floor. The tables were arranged so that the guests could see the performers and actors on the stage. This was the first official banquet since the arrival of the new Consul. The decorations of the tables were pretty and the guests were comfortably seated.

During the banquet speeches were made by Consul General Uyeno and other prominent Japanese. Banzais were frequently called for and a general good time was indulged in. One of the interesting features was a wrestling match, arranged for by the members of the Japanese newspapers.

Among those who called were Governor Walter F. Frear and staff, Mrs. Walter F. Frear, ex-Governor A. S. Cleghorn, A. de S. Canavaro, Consul General for Portugal; Tsing Hai, H. I. Chinese Consul; Ernest A. Mott-Smith, Secretary of the Territory; H. M. von Holt, Consul for Netherlands; J. F. Hackfeld, Consul for Germany and Consul for Norway; Geo. Rodiek, Consul for Sweden; Robert F. Lange, Consul for Belgium; William Lanz, Consul for Mexico; F. A. Schaefer, Consul for Italy (Dean of the Consular Corps); R. Menaut, Consul for France; Ralph G. E. Foster, H. B. M. Consul; H. R. Macfarlane, Consul for Denmark; George Davies, H. B. M. Vice Consul; Judge Sanford B. Dole, United States District Court; Lt. Comdr. Stanford E. Moses, U. S. N.; Eugene R. Hendry, United States Marshal; Hon. S. M. Damon, Hon. W. O. Smith, Alex. Lind say, Jr., Judge Circuit Court; Gerrit P. Wilder, Jas. Wakefield, Arthur M. Merrill, Rev. John Usborne, Rudolph J. Buchly, Brigadier General John H. Soper, Francis W. Damon, Richard L. Halsey, United States Immigration Service; A. G. Hawes, Jr., Hon. W. H. Babbitt, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Robert Lewers, Frank S. Scudder, R. C. Stackable, Deputy Collector of Customs; Miss Bess Woodward, Viggo Jacobson, Dr. Doremus Scudder, Rev. E. W. Thwing, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Currie, Walter C. Weedon, J. Morton Riggs, Frederick H. Newell, Director of United States Reclamation Service; Dr. F. H. Humphris, Dr. Victor J. Collins, Dr. Cofer, U. S. M. S.; Dr. Katsuki, Dr. Uchida, Dr. K. Haida, Dr. M. Oyama, Dr. T. Mitamura, Dr. T. Omura, D. Yonekura, S. Kojima, K. Otsuka, M. Yamashiro, K. Kawasaki, M. Komeya, T. Mizawa, T. Ozawa, and several others.

While climbing a mountain trail Dr. Genthe fell and injured his right hand. Three days later he found a Japanese doctor who looked at the injury, passed the remark that it was not very serious, and collected his fee. An English surgeon who treated the injury later said that it would be months before Genthe would recover the full use of his hand, a diagnosis which proved correct.

The fair which will be held this afternoon at Mrs. C. M. Cooke's residence in Beretania street will surely bring out many who have the welfare of the Castle Home at heart. Mrs. Z. K. Myers and Mrs. Frank Richardson have been most energetic workers, and through their efforts and those whom they have enlisted to help it is sure to have a famous success. Those in charge of the different booths are Mrs. Arthur Wall, delicatessen table assisted by Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Du Roi, Mrs. H. Waterhouse, Mrs. Walter Wall, Miss Schaefer, Miss M. Walker, Miss M. Hopper, Fruit punch and lemonade, Mrs. Fred Damon, assisted by the Misses Damon, Bargain table, Mrs. Sayers, Mrs. Gore and Mrs. Hopwood, Dolls, Mrs. Willard Brown, chairman assisted by Mrs. Gantley, Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. Bissel, Ice cream and cake, Mrs. Wells Peterson, assisted by Mrs. J. A. McCandless, Mrs. James Kennedy, Mrs. J. Angus, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Pierson, Mrs. Edwin Paris, Mrs. Griffiths, Miss Gilman, B. Hopper, Pike. The fancy-work table in the hands of Mrs. Marston Campbell proved to be a great success. She will be assisted by Mrs. Farrington, Mrs. Lowrey, Misses Alice Cooke, Margaret Castle. The candy table, Miss Madeline McCandless and the children's clothing booth, Mrs. Fred Booth, Mrs. Charles Atherton, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. North.

The sudden passing away of Mrs. Campbell-Parker has cast a gloom over the country and shocked her intimate friends, who had no idea of the serious nature of the operation, which took place at the Queen's Hospital. Mrs. Parker was most charitable to everybody, and the Hawaiians she especially took an interest in. Kind, with good judgment and a firm will, she wielded a power which was felt throughout the Islands. Her friends are many, and the tributes of respect and love which have been received at the Emma street residence testify to the gentleness of her nature, and to that generosity which was always so open-hearted toward the needy and poor.

The dance at the Moana, for adults—only those under sixteen will be allowed to dance at the Seaside—is in charge of Messrs. James Wilder, Shingle, A. L. C. Atkinson, George Angus, William Williamson, Dr. Collins, Dr. Humphris and Dr. Hodgins. At the Seaside the dance will begin at eight and the Moana dance begins at 9 o'clock. Mr. Kenneth Atkinson has charge of the fireworks and great things can be predicted. A path will connect the two hotels and the Outrigger Club being between, its spacious lawn can provide seats for many who wish to view the sports. The Castle Home fair promoters asked Mr. Ford to give up the afternoon sports, so in deference to this only an evening entertainment will be held. Those holding tickets will return the same or their equivalent in money to Mrs. Hawes, Jr. Mr. Alexander Hume Ford has worked ardently for the presentation of Hawaii Sea sports and from an arid tract of waste land he constructed a picturesque and progressive club. Everybody should go to night and show a public spirit—for in taking advantage of the sports of the sea the traditions of the Islands are preserved, and the young people kept happy, healthy and amused.

Dr. Genthe passed through Honolulu the other day and renewed his many friendships. The following is clipped from a San Francisco paper:

Dr. Arnold Genthe, sunburned to the roots of his hair and happy in the possession of a collection of photographic negatives made in parts of Japan never visited by the professional globe-trotter, arrived here yesterday on the Japanese liner America Maru. He brought home the friendliest feelings for the Japanese, the pictures he wanted, and a delightful tale which he tells with a smile of the obstacles that Japanese red tape throws in the way of the man with a camera. He made the trip with three cameras and his troubles were in proportion.

Japan, he says, is crowded with places and things which may not be photographed. The Mikado, his house, or any place that has been honored by his presence are among the objects at which the photographer may not level his camera. All negatives must be developed on the spot, regardless of the difficulties in the way, and the O. K. of half a dozen officials is necessary before the photographer may call the picture his own.

Dr. Genthe did most of his traveling in the unbeaten paths and spent most of his time in northern Japan, where he hobnobbed with Buddhist priests and was the guest of honor at the Koyasan monastery.

He visited the island of Ise and might have secured some pictures at the shrine of the sun goddess, but unfortunately the Mikado went there in company with Admiral Togo and General Oyama after the war with Russia to thank the goddess, and since that visit cameras have been barred.

Three days later he found a Japanese doctor who looked at the injury, passed the remark that it was not very serious, and collected his fee. An English surgeon who treated the injury later said that it would be months before Genthe would recover the full use of his hand, a diagnosis which proved correct.

Mrs. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham gave a most enjoyable party on Friday in their private car, taking quite a large number of friends to visit the sugar plantations, and ending with a lunch.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters:

Mrs. Barbara Lane, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

con at the popular Halekua hotel. It was in honor of Mrs. Newell, who thoroughly enjoyed the novel expedition. Among the guests were Governor and Mrs. Frear, their guest, the charming Miss Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Weedon, Miss Emily Gordon and several others.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiehl, who are living at Waikiki for a few weeks, gave a delightful dance on Wednesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hopwood. Mrs. Higgins, who is very handsome, looked particularly well and wore a very fetching toilette of white. Mrs. Kiehl was the hostess of a luncheon on Friday and her guests included Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Philip Andrews, Mrs. Charles Wiggin, Mrs. Riggle, the Misses Walker, Miss Helen Alexander.

Thursday afternoon the band generally plays at Fort Shafter and the lawn is filled with carriages and motor cars. Tea served on the lawn of the comfortable houses is quite a feature of the afternoon. Mrs. Wadhams, the attractive wife of the doctor, expects her mother, Mrs. Atkins, very soon. She will spend the winter here. Mrs. Atkins is well known here, having been at the Hawaiian hotel for several months.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Hitchcock and family, who arrived by the Sherwin, will soon occupy the residence of Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle in College Hills. They are now the guests of Prof. and Mrs. Edgar Wood. Dr. Hitchcock is a noted geologist and his father was president of Amherst college.

A pretty little dinner was given at "The Dingle" by Mr. and Mrs. George Davies last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Brain, Mr. and Mrs. Montague Cooke, Mrs. Genevieve Walbridge and Doctor Victor Collins. Ferns were lavishly adorned the exquisite table.

Miss (Bertha) Newell, the pretty young guest of Mrs. Helen North, sailed with much regret to her home in San Francisco. She held a regular reception on the deck and her state-room in the cabin was fragrant with the gifts of friends.

A complete line of new novels, including "The Dr. Rule," by Marion Crawford; "The Testing of Diamond Mally," by Mrs. Ward; "A Spirit in Prison," by Robert H. H. H. can be found at the Hawaiian News Co.

Lieut. Pardee of Fort Shafter is expected to arrive in the Sheridan. Lieut. Pardee is a great favorite in circles social and has been much missed during his sojourn at the Coast.

Commander Harry S. Knapp of the Charleston is lately engaged in renewing old acquaintances. The Charleston is well known in Honolulu.
